The Oakland Institute 42-1626352 Form 990 - Organization's Mission Oakland Institute is an independent policy think tank that brings fresh ideas to the most pressing social, economic, and envirnmental issues of our time. Our mission is to increase public participation and promote fair debate on critical social, economic, and environmental issues in both national and international forums. Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - First Accomplishment Appropriations Bill containing provisions to ensure US development funds are not used to support forced evictions in Ethiopia. 2. OI's report on Herakles Farms in Cameroon exposed the truth behind this deceptive "green" investment. The tracts of land now up for negotiation have shrunk from 73,000 to 19,843 ha and the 99 year long lease is a three year temporary concession now. 3. In PNG, villagers who depend on natural resources for survival are being swindled out of their land so that foreign corporations can fell rainforest and develop palm oil plantations. Our film and report, On Our Land, amplified struggles of local people. With growing pressure, PNG's Prime Minister O'Neill has conceded that land leases abused by the timber industry will be canceled. The people of Collingwood Bay have won back their land from Malaysian loggers and oil palm companies. 4. We initiated and are coordinating Our Land Our Business, a multi-

Key Learnings 1. Land and resource theft is the key issue confronting the poorest today. Related problems of climate justice, poverty, food security, and threats to cultural and bio diversity add further urgency to our work. 2. A policy think tank can make a decisive contribution and support struggles of local communities. 3. Be accountable to impacted communities. Given we often have access to investors and contracts related to land deals, we make information available to them first, which strengthens community activism to stop/stall deals. 4. "Build bridges." The potential for cross-border alliances, publicly naming investors in their home countries (as in the case of Italian company Senhuile SA) has provided a boost to struggles on the ground. 5. Not operating from a place of fear has provided the foundation for the success of the work.
